

home offices

Stay connected

Get only the software you want with Dell's Vostro 1400 notebook. It weighs only 2.45kg but has a 14-inch screen (with anti-glare display) and a full-size keyboard. It also has four USB ports.

WHERE Dell

EXPECT TO PAY R9 270

Flip out

The HP Compaq 2710p notebook can fold back on itself, so that the keyboard flips behind the 12.1-inch screen. Clever, very clever. You can use it for video and web conferencing, too.

WHERE HP

EXPECT TO PAY From R16 399

All in the wrist

Got carpal tunnel syndrome? Adjust your keyboard or notebook to various angles with the Ergo-Tilt laptop accessory.

WHERE Game

EXPECT TO PAY R99

Small with speed

The super-slim 17-inch Mac Book Pro is built on Intel Core 2 Duo. It has up to 4GB of 667MHz DDR2 memory, which means it's very, very fast.

WHERE Apple

EXPECT TO PAY R24 445

Get it right

Martin Jooste of Studio Blue office furniture says it's vital that a home office be efficient. "The most important thing for me was my desk and my chair," he says. The chair has to be extremely comfortable and should come with castors, swivel and tilt, and from it you should be able to access everything. Your desk needs to be measured and not too big, he says. "Also, space must be adequate for your needs. It's not just about having extra space in your house."

No tail

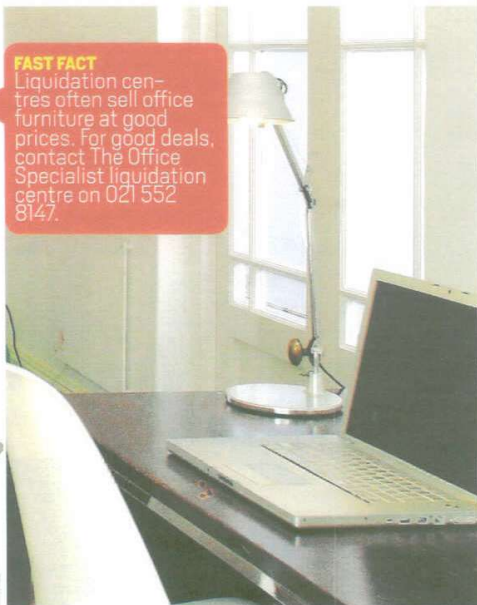

Go completely wireless with Apple's Mighty Mouse, which has Bluetooth technology. With the little Scroll Ball, you can move the cursor anywhere in a document without lifting your finger.

WHERE Apple

EXPECT TO PAY R684

FAST FACT

Liquidation centres often sell office furniture at good prices. For good deals, contact The Office Specialist liquidation centre on 021 552 8147.

Easy storage

The "Join Me" chairs fold together, saving on storage space. They can be upholstered, plastic or mesh.

WHERE Dauphin

EXPECT TO PAY R3 800 each

Bait ball

Cheer up the day with fish-shaped mouse.

WHERE Mice and More

EXPECT TO PAY From R250